The Claude Tool Nobody's Talking About

Chat is too basic. Code is too technical. Cowork is built for entrepreneurs.

The Gap

Chat is great for quick questions. Code is powerful but requires a terminal and tech skills.

Most entrepreneurs are stuck in between — wanting more than a chatbot but not ready to learn to code. There's a tool for that.

Meet Claude Cowork

Same powerful brain as Claude Code. No terminal required. No coding background needed.

If you can describe what you want in plain English, you can build it. Skills, plugins, and automations — all created through conversation.

Your $100/Month Business Analyst

---

Claude Cowork runs multiple tasks in parallel while you focus on strategy. It handles:

- Client communications in your voice
- Weekly reports and data analysis
- Content drafts and social posts
- Proposal writing and follow-ups

Why This Matters for You

---

A virtual assistant costs $2,000–$4,000/month. Claude Cowork costs $100.

It doesn't call in sick. It doesn't need training every Monday. And it remembers your preferences, your voice, and your standards — permanently.
